ARTIFEX PRESS

Artifex Press is a publisher of digital catalogues raisonnés. Published catalogues are currently available by subscription for Chuck Close, Jim Dine, Tim Hawkinson, Agnes Martin, Lucas Samaras and James Siena. This spring, Artifex Press's seventh catalogue raisonné, Sol LeWitt Wall Drawings, will be published. Artifex Press's approach combines the rigors of art-historical research with the flexibility of digital publishing. Artifex Press's ultimate goal is to leverage its expertise in software development and catalogue raisonné production to preserve the legacy of participating artists and become the definitive resource for information about their artworks.

The Art Loss Register is the international due diligence database used by the art trade, currently listing 500,000 items. It provides an opportunity for police forces, insurers and theft victims to register stolen, looted and fake art and antiques; for lenders to record security interests; and for law firms to record legal claims or interests. The Art Loss Register searches 400,000 items moving both publicly and privately through the international art market against its database each year and, working closely with law enforcement, plays a vital role in the recovery of stolen art worldwide.

Cubism Law is a commercially minded boutique law firm. Its lawyers are lateral thinkers and will leave no stone unturned to find solutions for their clients, in all areas ranging from dispute resolution to the regulatory and transactional domains. Cubism works with third party financiers and insurers to service the needs of clients needing to fund or insure meritorious (including art-related) claims. Cubism is also dedicated to serving the needs of the creative industries and works with its network of specialist lawyers across Europe, the Middle East and the Americas to provide country-specific and focused advice on issues that arise from the cross-border nature of complicated situations (financing, sale and purchase, and litigation claims involving artworks). Recent Cubist lawyers' experience in this field includes acting for the widow of a prominent artist on a wide range of contentious and non-contentious matters, including in a complex cross-border issue relating to a very valuable piece of art, acting for international postage stamp dealers in a multi-million pound dispute relating to the authenticity of certain stamps, and acting for a major international London auction house in the disposal of millions of pounds of high-value antiques arising out of a dispute from an insolvent estate.
